3. Innovations in curricular design and transaction:

The Academic Bodies of the University formulates the curricula. The college has no direct participation in curriculum design. The college always sees that the college mission and goals are reflected in the execution of curriculum through general functioning and the teaching-learning process in the college. While going through the curricula during the class-room, the faculty attempts to make it more practical and relevant to the real life conditions. The faculty sees to it that not only theoretical knowledge is imparted through lectures but also it leads to the total personality development of the students. The college looks upon the curricula as a means to develop social, political and cultural awareness among the students.

In the college, the following Associations have been formed under the concerned departments

- a) Marathi Vangmay Mandal
- b) Hindi Sahitya Parishad
- c) English Literary Association
- d) History Association,
- e) Geography Association
- f) Economics Association
- g) Commerce Association

These Associations undertake various activities throughout the year to bridge the gap between the purely academic activities and practical life around. Thus efforts are made to link the theoretical part of the syllabus to the applied aspect of the same.

The curricula of various subjects are designed by the Boards of studies in the particular subjects in the Shivaji University. For the proper understanding of the objectives behind the curriculum and for the smooth implementation of the same the workshops of different subjects are organized by different colleges in association with the university. Our faculty members participate in such workshops. The following are the names of the teacher-participants for the year 2009-10.
